

Conserve Wildlife Foundation Invites Public to 'Rare Wildlife Revealed'

The presentation takes place Nov. 4.

By Chloe Morales (Patch Staff) - October 27, 2016 4:20 pm ET

---

ShareTweetGoogle PlusRedditEmailComments0

From Conserve Wildlife Foundation of NJ:

The Conserve Wildlife Foundation of N.J. invites the public to the opening reception of Rare Wildlife Revealed: The James Fiorentino Traveling Art Exhibition. The exhibit features 25 original watercolor paintings depicting New Jersey's most vulnerable wildlife species. The event is Friday, Nov. 4 from 6-9 p.m. in Bernardsville.

Get free real-time news alerts from the Bernardsville-Bedminster Patch.

Subscribe

Meet the nationally renowned wildlife and sports artist along with CWF biologists Stephanie Feigin and Kelly Triece, and enjoy light fare, special label wine, and Flying Fish beer. For more information on this event and show schedule, visit the CWF website.

Photo courtesy of Pixabay